

Common Sense Privacy Program

Tips for Video Classrooms

- You may be at home, but remember that you are still in your classroom! The same rules that you are responsible for in your physical classroom don't change when you go online. When the camera turns on, you're at school, not at home.
- Learn how to control your video classroom controls. Just as you control when you speak in class, you control your microphone! Don't turn off your camera without permission, just as you wouldn't walk out of your classroom without permission.
- Be aware of what is on camera, everyone in your class can see what's behind you. Find a quiet space at home where your family won't have to walk behind you. Remember, if you can hear something, so can the rest of your class. Remind your family that everyone can hear them.